

Retrospective Databases

Your patrons expect digital access to all materials necessary for their research. EBSCO's Retrospective Databases provide this for a wide range of resources –

from popular magazines to peer-reviewed scholarly journals.

The Retrospective Databases are essential to your serials collection for these key reasons:

- Save time by accessing decades of volumes in one search
- Updated subject headings make finding information easy with contemporary terms, while names used as subject headings are standardized throughout the years of coverage, to ensure thorough searching
- Get more use out of JSTOR with superior quality indexing for those archival issues

EBSCO

Applied Science and Technology Index Retrospective™: 1913-1983 (H.W. Wilson) is a key resource for any library looking to provide the best in science research materials for its patrons. With indexing for over 1,370 periodicals and citations to more than 3 million articles, this database is the perfect reference for locating important studies, exploring historical controversies, following the development of technologies, and more.

Applied Science & Business Periodicals Retrospective™: 1913-1983 (H.W. Wilson)

combines Applied Science & Technology Index Retrospective and Business Periodicals Index Retrospective, to cover the most important events, issues and trends in the history of business and industry.

Art Index Retrospective™: 1929-1984 (H.W. Wilson)

covers more than 55 years of art journalism content. With articles, interviews, and reviews from over 600 publications, this is an invaluable resource for any library.

Biography Index Retrospective™: 1946-1983 (H.W. Wilson)

brings new depth to your library's coverage of notable people from antiquity to 1983. With over 620,000 article and book citations, this collection is essential for educators, students, media professionals, book clubs, and researchers.

(Continued on reverse side...)

Book Review Digest Retrospective™: 1903-1982 (H.W. Wilson) allows your patrons to easily search nearly eight decades of Book Review Digest. This database provides excerpts from and citations to reviews of adult and juvenile fiction and non-fiction.

Business Periodicals Index Retrospective™: 1913-1982 (H.W. Wilson) offers fast and versatile access to nearly 70 years of business scholarship. With indexing of more than 1,000 periodicals and citations to nearly 3,200,000 articles, this database offers a rich account of technological advances, business strategies, marketing triumphs and failures, company profiles, iconic executives and more.

Education Index Retrospective™: 1929-1983 (H.W. Wilson) is an essential source for researching societal trends affecting education. This database offers accurate, detailed, cover-to-cover indexing of over 800 periodicals, many of them peer-reviewed.

Essay and General Literature Index Retrospective™: 1900-1984 (H.W. Wilson) helps your patrons access tens of thousands of essays that might otherwise stay hidden in your library's collection. Citing over 270,000 essays in collections dating back to the beginning of the 20th century, it unlocks a wealth of information in thousands of collections and anthologies, making your library more valuable to researchers in a wide array of fields.

Humanities & Social Sciences Index Retrospective™: 1907-1984 (H.W. Wilson) allows you to delve further into the past in the humanities and social sciences. This database contains high-quality indexing of almost 1,100 periodicals, including the most important scholarly journals published in North America and Europe throughout the 20th century.

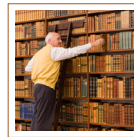

Note that you can subscribe to this full database or you can choose either:

Humanities Index Retrospective™: 1907-1984 (H.W. Wilson)

Social Sciences Index Retrospective™: 1907-1983 (H.W. Wilson)

Index to Legal Periodicals Retrospective™: 1908-1981 (H.W. Wilson) provides indexing for over 880 legal periodicals from a number of countries, as well as annual surveys of jurisdictional laws and federal courts, annual institutes, and annual reviews of work on specific fields or topics.

Library Literature & Information Science Retrospective™: 1905-1983 (H.W. Wilson) grants librarians, educators, and students with easy access to the knowledge and experience of decades of historical library scholarship. Nearly 80 years of citations document all the innovations, controversies, and people instrumental in the making of modern librarianship.

Readers' Guide Retrospective™: 1890-1982 (H.W. Wilson) contains the most detailed account of U.S. culture and history in a single, searchable database. Investing in this acclaimed resource allows your patrons to search over 3 million articles, many of them peer-reviewed, from over 550 leading magazines.

Short Story Index Retrospective™: 1915-1983 (H.W. Wilson) grants access to the full content of the acclaimed Short Story Index back to its beginning in 1915, as well as links to the full text of thousands of stories online. This unique resource is essential and beneficial for readers, educators, librarians, parents, and more.

---

For more information please contact us at information@ebSCO.com

www.ebscohost.com/wilson